

MONITORING AND REVIEW REPORT

WELSH LANGUAGE SCHEME

2009 / 10

Notes for members of the Executive, TASIG, the Bilingualism Committee and the Language Scheme Advisory Panel:

For the 2008/09 Annual Report Bangor University piloted a new method of reporting that was less reliant on narrative and placed more emphasis on performance indicators and targets. The Welsh Language Board approved this new method of reporting and agreed that the same format should be used again this year. However, following a discussion at national level on the development of a new procedure for reporting and performance indicators that would be appropriate across the sector, the Board asked the University to incorporate their Higher Education Performance Indicators (HEPI) into the report this year alongside the targets set for the 2008/09 Report. In order to do so, this year's Report therefore presents some new performance indicators and targets, i.e. STAFFING tables (c) and (d) and WELSH LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION IN THE WORKPLACE table (b). The Welsh Language Board has also requested an additional section noting institutional priorities for the next period of time, and noting a maximum of 5 specific areas or targets. In the Appendix 'Staffing Statistics' new tables are also introduced, i.e. tables 4, 5 and 7.

All enquiries about this Report should be sent to:

SECTION 1

Secure the facilities for individuals to deal with the University on all occasions and for all purposes in Welsh or English as they prefer.

a. STAFFING

PRIORITY	To offer staff, students and members of the public a bilingual service in 'initial contact' situations. ¹
Performance Indicator	The number of administrative posts ² advertised where Welsh has been noted as an essential skill and the percentage filled by Welsh speakers. (HEPI 2).
Target	To advertise all 'initial contact' posts as 'Welsh Essential'.
Outcome	Twenty two posts were advertised as 'Welsh essential' and 9 posts as 'Welsh Essential or Willingness to learn', making a total of 31. Twenty seven (87%) of the appointees could speak Welsh and 4(13%) were learning Welsh.
Comments	The outcome shows that those posts that are advertised as Welsh Essential /Welsh Essential or Willingness to Learn were filled by Welsh speakers or those learning Welsh. If we look at individual posts, it could be argued that the category 'willingness to learn' should be used less frequently with clerical posts, especially since the skills required are generally generic with the individual being required to act as an 'initial contact' from the outset. Also consideration might be given to using the category 'desirable' less often with posts at this level. After reviewing the

¹ A decision was made to use 'initial contact' rather than 'main reception areas' since the term 'receptionist' is no longer used for jobs.

² For the purposes of this indicator, 'administrative' posts are defined as 'clerical' posts (grades 1-6). This reflects the priority noted here, which is a bilingual service in initial contact situations; clerical staff are usually responsible for this service.

	data and the job descriptions, it would appear that some posts advertised as Welsh Desirable should have been advertised as Welsh Essential since they contain an element of ‘initial contact’ service. The systems for monitoring language levels for posts within the Human Resources department have been tightened since mid 2009 and this will continue. The University will be revisiting this matter in its review of the Code of Practice.

b. STAFFING

PRIORITY	To increase the number of staff across the clerical and academic-related post levels who can operate bilingually in order to develop the institution’s bilingual ethos.
Performance Indicator	Number and percentage of administrative staff who can speak Welsh according to the post grading. (HEPI 1).
Target	To show an annual (percentage) increase in the number of Welsh speakers among clerical and academic-related staff.
Outcome	See Staffing Statistics: Tables 1 and 2 (page 1). There has been an increase of 1% in the number stating that they speak Welsh amongst clerical staff. There has been a decrease of 1% in the number stating that they speak Welsh amongst ALC staff.
Comments	Overall, the percentage of Welsh speakers and the percentage of those learning Welsh across the institution has stayed the same in 2009/10 as it was in 2008/9. There is concern about the more significant decrease in the percentage of new ALC staff who note that they are able to speak Welsh. The University will monitor this during 2010/11.

c. STAFFING

PRIORITY	To ensure that the university's staffing situation supports the continuance and development of Welsh language provision.
Performance Indicator	Number and percentage of administrative staff who can speak Welsh according to the post grading. (HEPI 4).
Target	To show an annual (percentage) increase in the number of Welsh speakers among academic staff. ³
Outcome	See Staffing Statistics: Table 4 (page 2). The statistics show that the percentage of Welsh speakers decreases as one moves from the G007 grade to PROFESSOR grade
Comments	Welsh speaking staff are represented on each of the main salary grades for academic staff. The university wishes to increase the percentage of Welsh-speaking academic staff on higher salary grades. As part of this work, the university is looking at how a Welsh medium leadership programme might be developed.

d. STAFFING

PRIORITY	Ensure that the university's staffing situation supports the continuation and development of Welsh language provision.
Performance Indicator	The number and percentage of academic staff who teach through the medium of Welsh according to School. The number and percentage of academic staff who can teach through the medium of Welsh according to School. (HEPI 5) ⁴

³ This is the first time this target has been included in the Annual Report

Target	Ensure that the University gives staff the opportunity to maintain and develop their language skills to enable them to lecture through the medium of Welsh. ⁵
Outcome	See Staffing Statistics: Table 7 (page 6-7). In the vast majority of academic schools, the majority of staff who speak Welsh also teach through the medium of Welsh.
Comments	This result is encouraging and shows that the broadening of Welsh medium provision to all teaching areas within the university is progressing successfully. This work means that it is possible to foster new Welsh medium staff and also that staff are able to maintain and develop their Welsh medium teaching skills.

d. 3rd PARTY – CONTRACTED SERVICES

PRIORITY	Ensure that Language Scheme requirements are included in third party contracts.
Performance Indicator	Number and percentage of contracts monitored that comply with Language Scheme requirements. (HEPI 8).
Target	To monitor 3 schemes a year.
Outcome	The contracts monitored indicate appropriate attention to Language Scheme requirements.
Comments	Contract 1: Contract with the Car Parking Partnership to introduce a Civil Parking Notice enforcement system. It was reported last year that references to Language Scheme requirements were included in the tender document for this contract but that project development needed to be supervised in order to ensure that all relevant dimensions of the work were bilingual. During 2009/10, Canolfan Bedwyr worked with Estates and Facilities and

⁴ For the purposes of this report, the number of Welsh speakers was compared according to school with the number of staff teaching through the medium of Welsh (rather than the number who noted that they are able to teach through the medium of Welsh on the HR system).

⁵ This is the first time this target has been included in the Annual Report.

	with the Car Parking Partnership in order to ensure that all relevant elements of the parking regulation system were available bilingually. Specifically, a bilingual payment and appeal system has been developed which is now being administered by the company. Thus by now the following elements are available bilingually: correspondence for each step of the civil parking notice system, signage, appeal system, tickets from an electronic handheld machine, a phone payment system. Contract 2: CRM (Customer Relationship Management) System The tender process for this agreement noted specifically that any system would be required to be able to send out correspondence in both Welsh and English. Contract 3: ‘Oracle Business Intelligence’ system. This system is designed to enable the university to create clear and accessible reports based on data (e.g. the number of applications for courses). In order to enable staff to view the information in Welsh or English and to prepare reports based on the information in Welsh or English, the tender process asked companies to note how their systems would ensure that the output the system produced was bilingual. Contract 4: Bilingual Touch Screen Equipment New ICT and audiovisual equipment was installed in the Main Arts Lecture Theatre. The equipment is controlled by a touch screen. Appropriate translations were provided for the suppliers so that the text on the control system appeared in Welsh and English.

e. COMPLAINTS

PRIORITY	To ensure that the university responds to any action or behaviour that undermine the principles of the Language Scheme.
Performance Indicator	Number of complaints received about the operation of the Language Scheme and the percentage of complaints dealt with in line with institutional standards. (HEPI 9).
Target	To record all complaints received. To investigate those complaints that suggest that there is a lack of understanding of the Scheme and /or a sustained failure to implement it correctly.
Outcome	See the list of complaints received (page 31-3). 10 complaints were received about the implementation of the Language Scheme and 100% of them were dealt with in accordance with institutional standards.
Comments	There are robust systems in place to deal with complaints.

SECTION 2

To develop the University's Welsh language ethos, implementing the principle of equality in all its activities and fostering a spirit of harmony and mutual support between cultures.

MAINSTREAMING THE WELSH LANGUAGE

PRIORITY	To mainstream the Welsh language in all university administration and develop new initiatives to promote the use of Welsh among staff/ students.
Performance Indicator	Number and percentage of new policies and initiatives that have been subject to a language assessment. (HEPI 7).
Target	To monitor whether linguistic issues were considered as new policies and initiatives were developed. To monitor 3 new policies a year; prepare and/ or implement fully two new schemes each year that encourage or assist staff in using Welsh.
Outcome	(1) In last year's report, reference was made to the university's procedure for holding Equality Impact Assessments on policies. The work on EIAs has developed in 2009/10; central departments at the university have been screening policies, or have been trained to do so, in order to see whether there are issues involved with Equality – including the Welsh language – that need to be highlighted. The departments that participated in this process in 2009-10 were: The Academic Registry, the Registrar's Office, Corporate Communications and Media, the Library and Information Technology Services. The university's Equality Officer has also begun to work with the College of Business, Social Studies and Law on this issue and it is hoped that this will facilitate the process of introducing the EIA procedure to Schools and Colleges. In the context of the Language Scheme, the EIA procedure is a means of drawing attention to

	the Welsh language when policies are drawn up or revised. The university's Equality and Diversity website offers guidance on holding an EIA and the Screening Form pays particular attention to Welsh (see Appendix 1 on http://www.bangor.ac.uk/hr/equalitydiversity/eia.php.en). Thus far, no language-specific issues have been raised. (2) in 2009/10, in line with the process outlined above, a review was completed of all the Codes of Practice, Regulations and Guidelines that are the responsibility of the Senate Regulations and Special Cases Committee: (a) Code of Practice on Pastoral Support – This Code of Practice, which came into force in 2009/10, explains the roles, responsibilities and boundaries of all stakeholders involved in giving pastoral care. There is a specific reference in the document to the need to act in accordance with the Language Scheme and especially the need to respect the student's preferred language. (b) Code of Practice for Programme Approval, Monitoring and Review – Action was taken to ensure that Welsh medium teaching was a consideration in internal audits of academic schools. Action was also taken to ensure that Welsh medium teaching was considered as part of the validation procedure for new courses. (c) Code of Practice for Joint Provision – The Code was changed substantially ensuring equality for the Welsh and English languages. The process of approving applications to establish a joint provision now involves consideration of the Welsh language. (3) One particularly interesting example in the context of the mainstreaming of the Welsh language via new policies and initiatives is the work that is being done by the team who are responsible for the university's KESS scholarships. These scholarships bring academics, research students and companies together. One element of the benefit companies receive from working with the university is the guidance they receive on issues involving sustainability (social, economic and environmental). After the company complete a short on-line survey about their attitudes to the different components that make up sustainable development, they receive a series of 'off the shelf' policies that help them to act in a more sustainable way. Language policy is one such policy. They also receive information about other relevant institutions such as the Welsh Language Board and Chwarae Teg. This work is an indication that the university encourages companies to take the Welsh language (and sustainability more generally) into account as a core part of their work.

	(4) The project 'Raising Confidence: Increasing the Use of Welsh via IT' funded via the Welsh Language Board's scheme 'Promoting and Facilitating Bilingual Workplaces' has been fully implemented. Staff members were offered one-to-one IT support to enable them to use Cysgliad, the Word Spellchecker, the 'To Bach' programme etc and 79 staff received training. The feedback was very positive. Also as part of this scheme, the booklet Cymraeg yn y Gwaith (Welsh in the Workplace) was created which assists staff to use Welsh via resources such as key vocabulary and templates (e.g. 'out of office' messages). (5) A scheme has been prepared to develop 'Cymorth Cymraeg' (Welsh Support) – a special one-stop-shop for Welsh on the university's website in order to (a) encourage staff to use Welsh at work and (2) facilitate their use of Welsh. Although an application for a grant from the Welsh Language Board to fund the scheme was unsuccessful, the intention is to consider other means of funding it in 2010/11.
Comments

WELSH IN THE WORKPLACE TRAINING (a)

PRIORITY	Develop the ability of existing staff at the institution to use Welsh, especially staff who are in constant contact with the public.
Performance Indicator	Number and percentage of administrative staff who have received Welsh language training in the workplace according to department / school (HEPI3).
Target	To offer at least two 'Welsh in the workplace' courses each year, geared to meet the needs of specific groups of staff.
Outcome	Second language courses for staff and the number enrolled on them: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A 15 week course at intermediate level for Administrators (6 members: members came from the following departments – Registry, School of Linguistics, School of Education, Biocomposites, the Library [2]). • Three courses throughout the year for senior managers at beginners' level (10 members: members came from the following departments – Estates and Facilities, Corporate Communications and Marketing, School of

	Medical Sciences, Human Resources [2], the Library, Finance [2], Academic Development Unit [2]). Welsh Improvement courses for staff and the number enrolled on them: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On-line course including one-to-one contact with a tutor (3 members: the members came from the School of Education, Information Technology Services, Finance). • Two weekly courses for staff (3 members in one group from the School of History, Welsh History and Archaeology, Human Resources, Corporate Communications and Marketing, School of Theology; 5 members in the other group from the School of Healthcare Sciences, the Vice-Chancellor's Office, the ESRC Centre for Research into the Theory and Practice of Bilingualism, the Library [2], The Careers and Employment Service). • October 2009 – a day course for staff (5 members). 32 staff members attended language courses geared to assist them in their posts. This represented 1.6% of the total staff at the university in August 2010.
Comments	Although the percentage of staff who have received Welsh language training in the workplace appears small, the courses that have been developed are a sign that the university is working towards developing language training during working hours for key groups of staff. We trust that further developments in this work will be possible in 2010/11, specifically through the creation of the post of Language Tutor who will develop courses at different levels for specific groups of staff.

WELSH IN THE WORKPLACE TRAINING (b)

PRIORITY	To develop the ability of existing staff at the institution to use Welsh.
Performance Indicator	Number and percentage of academic staff who have received Welsh language training in the workplace according to department / school (HEPI 6).
Target	To ensure that the University gives staff the opportunity to maintain and develop their language skills to enable them to lecture through the medium of Welsh. ⁶
Outcome	No language courses have been held specifically for academic staff, but academic staff have attended some of the language courses listed above. Some academic staff have enrolled on Welsh courses in the community.
Comments	As the University reviews its arrangements for learning Welsh in the workplace, the development of language provision specifically for academic staff will be one of the possibilities under consideration. The emphasis will continue, however, on securing 'Welsh essential' appointments for the academic fields where there are plans to develop the Welsh medium provision.

⁶ This is the first time this target has been included in the Annual Report.

LANGUAGE TRAINING OUTSIDE WORKING HOURS

PRIORITY	To offer opportunities for staff to develop their language skills in their own time.
Performance Indicator	Number of staff attending Welsh lessons not specifically geared to the needs of their post.
Target	To ensure the opportunity for staff to enrol on Welsh courses.
Outcome	63 members of staff enrolled on public courses in their own time.
Comments	15 of these members of staff have enrolled on the 'cwrs Uwch' (higher course), the 'cwrs Meistrol' (the advanced course) or the 'Sgwrs a Stori' (Conversation and Story) sessions, indicating that they have achieved a good level of competence in Welsh.

RAISING AWARENESS OF THE LANGUAGE SCHEME

PRIORITY	To increase awareness of the university's language scheme among staff, emphasising why it should be implemented and how to implement it.
Performance Indicator	Number of staff who have received an introduction to the Language Scheme.
Target	To maintain current opportunities to introduce the Language Scheme to staff (e.g. monthly induction sessions) and to develop one additional opportunity each year to do this – either through a language awareness course or by equality and diversity training.
Outcome	Induction 139 staff have had an introduction to the Language Scheme by means of the induction sessions for new staff (these staff came from 40 different departments/schools and research units).

	Equality and Diversity Training Issues concerned with the Language Scheme have been integrated into the University's Equality Training. This training has been delivered in three different ways in 2009/10: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Equality training for managers – 21 staff from 15 different departments, schools and research units. • Equality Training with individual departments – 51 staff from the Accommodation Office, the Library, Student Services. • Equality training via the bilingual e-learning pack – 242 staff from 19 different departments, schools and research units. Language Awareness Training A Language Awareness course has been developed, adapted specifically to the needs of university staff. This training was delivered to security staff (34 staff) and to finance department staff (29 staff).
Comments	The development of the Language Awareness Course is an important step towards improving staff's knowledge of the Language Scheme and of what working in a bilingual institution entails. The sessions have provided a means for discussing important matters and we are confident that this provision can be developed further in 2010/11. To this end, one of the schemes we are currently developing is a collaboration with Aberystwyth University to develop Language Awareness Training specifically geared to the needs of academic staff.

SECTION 3

To promote, develop and extend the University's Welsh medium work, with the aim of realising students' right to receive higher education through the medium of Welsh and/or English.

Development Area	Details	Comments
Number of Welsh medium (FTE) students	589.6 (559.2 in 2008/9)	This is an increase of 30.4 since last year
Welsh medium/ bilingual degree schemes	The first students enrolled on the new postgraduate Masters courses which offer Welsh medium provision: MA / MSc in Sustainable Environmental Management – 8 students enrolled MA in Language Policy and Planning - 5 students enrolled	These enrolments are very encouraging and indicate that Welsh medium postgraduate courses have the capacity to attract respectable numbers of students. The courses also create a link with employers since quite a few of the students enrolled on these courses are already employed in Environment and Language Planning and in the case of the Environmental course there is a strong dimension of work placement.

New Welsh medium /bilingual modules	The following modules were introduced for the first time in 2009/10 by the College of Education and Lifelong Learning <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Y Bedwaredd Efengyl - Paratoi i addysgu - Agweddau athronyddol ar hanes Cymru fodern - Dysgu Trwy Wneud/Doing2Learn At the request of the Welsh Assembly Government, the College of Education and Lifelong Learning was asked to validate a number of modules taught externally: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The National Training Programme for the Foundation Phase in Wales for the educational year 2010-2011: - Sabbatical Language Scheme (Welsh for Educational Practitioners) delivered by Canolfan Bedwyr - A Course on Bilingual Teaching Methodology delivered by Sgiliaith (Coleg Meirion-Dwyfor/Llandrillo) The module ' Y Gyfraith yn Gymraeg' was delivered collaboratively for the first time, to students at Bangor and Aberystwyth.
Examples of resources and activities to support Welsh medium learning and teaching developed in 2009-10.	The School of Music received financial funding from HEFCW to set up a Welsh medium 'Work Experience' scheme for Level 1 and 3 students (only). Week-long placements have been successfully organised for 22 students with companies such as Sain (Penygroes), BBC National Orchestra of Wales (Cardiff), BBC (Bangor), William Mathias Schools' Service (Caernarfon), Stiwdio Aran (Bethesda), Ysgol Gyfun Llangefni

	(Anglesey) etc. The School of Welsh has also incorporated elements of work experience into their 'Ymarfer Ysgrifennu' module. As indicated below, one of the students on the module spent time working for the university's student recruitment unit. At postgraduate level, the School of Welsh has succeeded in creating partnerships, via KESS and ATM (Access to Masters) schemes with the Welsh Slate Museum, Canolfan Cae'r Gors, Rondo Media and the Lolfa. Meetings of the 'Fforwm Drafod' (Discussion Forum) have been held for Welsh-speaking postgraduate students. These sessions are aimed at developing future Welsh medium academics by broadening their experience and knowledge of various fields (e.g. research, teaching, the validation process). To this end the sessions include presentations by guest speakers from amongst university staff. A member of staff from the College of Education and Lifelong Learning acted as a consultant on a project to produce resources to support Mathematics teaching and learning through the medium of Welsh, a BEAM project: http://www.beam.co.uk/departmentProduct.php?dept_id=43&page=1 The Academic Development Unit works closely with the Centre for Welsh Medium Higher Education to ensure that the (new and young) staff who follow the PGCertHE course receive training and support in Welsh. Eifion Lloyd Jones who works as a consultant for the Centre, will act as a member of the Bangor Unit, mentoring staff who are studying for the qualification through the medium of Welsh. As a result of this
--	--	--

	collaboration, the unit now takes pride in its ability to provide an extensive Welsh medium service for those who wish to access it. As well as providing workshops on various teaching technologies within the university members of university staff have also contributed to the Centre for Welsh Medium Higher Education's Staff Development programme. Among the workshops provided were: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • e-learning principles and practice: • video, audio and podcasts • Computerised Language Tools Teaching Technology Enhancement Project Work is ongoing on this project which has been funded by HEFCW to facilitate teaching and learning via technology. One of the project's main priorities is to expand teaching and learning through the medium of Welsh via technology, together with effective collaborative provision. The Teaching Technology Team in IT Services has worked with staff in the School of Education and Lifelong Learning to pilot a number of new technologies. This is aimed at facilitating collaborative working following the establishment of the North and Mid Wales Teacher Training Centre. These technologies include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Videoconferencing Software • Interactive Whiteboard • Audience Response devices (Clickers) • Audio and Video Equipment • Plagiarism Detection Software

	Case Studies The Technology Teaching Team have gathered a number of case studies during the year from staff members who make innovative use of technology in teaching. These can be seen on the IT Services Website and include contributions from staff who teach through the medium of Welsh. http://www.bangor.ac.uk/itservices//lt/casestudies.php.cy Videoconferencing using Desktop Equipment A grant was obtained to buy equipment to be used with the videoconferencing software ConferenceMe. This software has been used by tutors and students on a distance learning course which is run by Canolfan Bedwyr as an additional means of keeping in touch with and supporting distance learning students. Blackboard Following the completion of the preparation of a Welsh language version of Blackboard as a result of cooperation between IT Services and Canolfan Bedwyr, Blackboard themselves have now taken over the maintenance of the Language Pack. This means that a Welsh version will appear simultaneously with any development in English. The original translation has been shared with the whole sector.
Examples of activities outside formal teaching that have been developed in order to support and promote Welsh medium teaching and learning	Activities for school pupils The School of Music organised a tour to attract students (this included periods of formal teaching for schools and 6th form colleges) in the following centres in September 2009. These were held entirely through the medium of Welsh:

	-Aberystwyth (Schools in the Aberystwyth, Tregaron, Aberaeron, Machynlleth, Lampeter catchment areas) -Carmarthen (Schools in Pembrokeshire, Cardigan, West Glamorgan, Llandeilo, Ammanford etc.) -Cardiff (Schools in the City of Cardiff, Gwent, Rhondda etc.) About 210 pupils were welcomed to these conferences. The School also received funding through the 'Reaching Higher' scheme to hold a series of one day conferences in South Wales for year 12 and 13 pupils who are studying Music through the medium of Welsh. This year the School of Welsh once again held a residential course at Glan Llyn for year 12 and 13 students to assist them with their AS and A Level courses in Welsh and about 250 pupils attended this course. Marketing Activities There has been an expansion of the university's use of current students in its marketing. As well as organising a supply of profiles of new Welsh speaking students for the Welsh prospectus, Welsh speaking students were used for presentations and on question and answer panels in events such as the Higher Education conferences organised by the Marketing and Student Recruitment Team for schools in Anglesey, Gwynedd and Conwy. The Marketing Office also worked with the School of Welsh to offer a period of work experience to their students and the two work placements arranged resulted in further content on the University's website by current Welsh speaking students. For instance, a series of articles and videos about the School of Welsh, Aelwyd JMJ and Welsh speaking students' lives was prepared as part of the work placements, see: http://www.bangor.ac.uk/studentlife/features/index.php.cy and
--	--	--

	<http://www.bangor.ac.uk/bangortv/index.php.cy> New Welsh medium marketing materials were prepared (e.g. new leaflets for the School of Welsh, and the School of History, Welsh History and Archaeology) during 2010, as well as a Welcome Week Diary, a circular for UCAS students and a supplement on the university in Golwg magazine and a special supplement on the School of Welsh. The development and expansion of Welsh medium content on the University's website has continued. The new Welsh medium web pages/content created during the year included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - a webpage for prospective students and other visitors to Bangor's website about the Big Weekend held at the Faenol Estate near Bangor in May 2010: http://www.bangor.ac.uk/bigweekend/index.php.cy - Welsh language videos for BangorTV including The Big Weekend, Graduation, Welcome Week and profiles of Welsh speaking students http://www.bangor.ac.uk/bangortv/index.php.cy Cultural activities The university took a leading role once again in all kinds of cultural activities. A number of musical/Welsh culture activities were held, for instance, to celebrate the centenary of the foundation of Cylchgrawn Cymdeithas Alawon Gwerin Cymru in Bangor in 1909. The staff at the School of Welsh gave presentations to a host of literary societies and Dr Angharad Price published her novel Caersaint. Bangor University was prominent at the Ebbw Vale National Eisteddfod. A varied programme
--	--	--

	of events was put on at the festival and the university's presence there included being one of the main sponsors of the Science and Technology Pavilion. Professor Peredur Lynch delivered the Annual Literary Lecture and of course Dr Jerry Hunter's success in the Prose Medal competition was a high point for the University. In April 2010, Professor Gerwyn Williams was elected to membership of the Arts Council of Wales and Dr Gwyn Lewis and Dr Lowri Hughes served once more on the Council of the National Eisteddfod.
Research	As in previous years, university staff undertook research through the medium of Welsh and on Welsh themes. One might mention, for instance, the work of the composer Dr Guto Puw in his role as Resident Composer of the BBC National Orchestra of Wales, Dr Delyth Morris' work on the Welsh language in the 21st century and work involving bilingualism, bilingual education and the social use of Welsh by Professor Colin Baker, Dr Gwyn Lewis, Mr Bryn Jones, Hunydd Andrews, Dr Enlli Thomas and Jessica Clapham. Dr Angharad Price was successful in obtaining a grant from the British Academy to research the relationship between the term 'Modernism' and minority languages and literatures and the School of Welsh held a research conference on 'The Literary Response to the '79 Referendum' and a public lecture on 'Xhosa Praise Poetry' by Jeff Opland with a research seminar to follow comparing that praise tradition with the Welsh tradition. A considerable amount of work was also accomplished in the field of terminology and language technology including three papers on Language Technologies for Welsh presented by Gruffudd Prys, Llio Humphries and David Chan in a conference in Spain. Presentations were also given on terminology in academic fields by Delyth Prys and Dr	University staff contributed to the electronic periodical Gwerddon – a firm indication that the university supports recent developments in Welsh medium research.

	Tegau Andrews in various conferences. In addition Bangor's Terminology Portal was launched by the Head of Terminology at IBM and by the Chair of the ISO Terminology Standards at the SALT Cymru Conference. Research students have also made a great contribution to the work carried out on topics involving the Welsh language and Welsh themes, such as 'Women in ballads in 19th century Wales', 'lolo Morganwg and indigenous music in Wales', an edition of the work of the composer Grace Williams, and a study of the ability of Welsh speakers to use the written language (this work was funded under the Welsh Language Board PhD scheme). It is also worth recording that a student studying for the Postgraduate Certificate in Translation under the auspices of Aberystwyth and Bangor universities won the title of Britain's Best Translator.
Staffing	The College of Education and Lifelong Learning appointed 6 Welsh medium academic staff. An Academic Music Coordinator was appointed with financial assistance from the Centre for Welsh medium Higher Education to supervise joint activity between the University of Glamorgan (Department of Audio and Music Technology), Trinity St David's University College (Music Department) and Bangor University School of Music.
HEFCW Scholarships and Fellowships	In 2009/10 scholarships and fellowships in the following fields were taken up. Scholarships Law

Welsh medium projects funded by HEFCW	As part of a project in partnership with CAIS, a wealth of teaching and learning materials in generic counselling skills, and counselling skills in relation to alcohol and substance abuse were created. These are currently being used on the Foundation Degree in Substance Abuse and all the new resources can be viewed on Y Porth and can be accessed for use. There was support for further development of the MA in Sustainable Environmental Management and the MA in Language Policy and Planning. The Historiography Project Officer was located in Bangor. He worked on behalf of all the Welsh universities on the creation of materials in the area of Historiography to support Welsh medium teaching in this field. These materials included translations of works by French historians (not available in English) and a series of interviews with some of the most prominent historians in Wales. There was funding for a project in nursing, 'An Introduction to Learning Disability' which will introduce learning disability to students in healthcare via Welsh language multimedia resources.

	A project was funded to establish a Library of Learning Resources/a Teaching Video for Biological Sciences. The provision of the module 'Y Gyfraith yn Gymraeg' was supported in a collaboration between Bangor, Aberystwyth and Glamorgan Universities. Bangor University Staff were responsible for the teaching on this module. A collaborative module 'Introduction to Business' has been developed which will be available to all Business Schools in Wales. It is a distance learning module which will be available via Y Porth.
The University's Teaching and Learning Strategy	The university offers Welsh medium support for students to develop skills. The College of Education and Lifelong Learning offers 'drop in' sessions (study skills and statistics/mathematics skills) every week during the two university semesters. These sessions are open to all students at the university. The teaching team all speak Welsh and so the service is available bilingually. In order to raise awareness of the importance of Employability among their students, the School of Music held 'Study Skills and Employability' sessions for Level 1 students who are studying through the medium of Welsh. During Welcome Week (September 2009) the School organised a training session for students in order to help them to improve the standard of their written Welsh. There has also been progress with regard to the development of students' Welsh language skills in other

	academic schools and Canolfan Bedwyr's teaching team have integrated linguistic elements into subject modules in the School of the Environment, Natural Resources and Geography, the School of Education, the School of Law and the School of Social Sciences. Each year the university starts a three year 'enhancement' programme in Teaching and Learning. In 2009/10, it was decided that the scheme would focus on Welsh language provision. Thus a start was made on the preparation of a programme for the 'Enhancement of Welsh medium Provision' which considered issues such as new courses and staffing needs. In 2009/10 work began on drawing up a new Teaching and Learning Strategy which will be submitted to HEFCW in 2011. There will be an emphasis on ensuring that Welsh medium teaching and the broadening of provision have a prominent place as one of the strategy's main elements.
Student activities	Y Llef (the Student's Union newspaper) was launched in September 2009, giving students an opportunity to write and create a Welsh language newspaper. Y Llef also provides students with a Welsh language source for university and union news. Since it was established, many students have contributed to the paper, either by writing articles or by joining the committee responsible for designing and distributing the paper. Cymdeithas Llywelyn (the learners' association) was resurrected and monthly taster sessions were held to encourage students to learn Welsh. Priority 2	Language Training	Appoint a Language Tutor in order to be able to plan appropriate and strategic provision.	Tutor appointed by September 2011
Priority 3	Welsh medium provision	Ensure that Bangor is in a situation to lead the Coleg Cymraeg Cenedlaethol.	ongoing
Priority 4	Pontio	Ensure that the Welsh language is mainstreamed into all Pontio activities.	ongoing
Priority 5	Students	Increase students' confidence in using Welsh language services and opting for Welsh medium provision.	Ongoing but with a specific focus on Welcome Week in September 2011.

COMPLAINTS CONCERNING THE LANGUAGE SCHEME

- [1] Complaints were received about the implementation of the Language Scheme in the Management Centre. These complaints related to English-only e-mails and attachments, English-only press advertisements, English-only answering machine messages, a lack of Welsh language service, a lack of Welsh language materials, the fact that Welsh language materials were not promoted.

Outcome: PYCI (the Language Scheme Advisory Panel) agreed to monitor the situation over the year. In June, representatives from Canolfan Bedwyr met with Management Centre staff. The importance of adhering to the Language Scheme was emphasised and guidance on how to do so was given. A Language Awareness course will be held with some Management Centre staff in October 2010.

- [2] Complaints were received about an English-only letter and questionnaire that was sent to all University suppliers; the letter gave a telephone number to use if the recipient wished to receive a Welsh version of the letter and questionnaire.

Outcome: The matter was referred to the attention of the Director of Finance. Bilingual versions of the letter and questionnaire were re-sent to the suppliers. A Language Awareness course was delivered to all staff in the finance department.

- [3] A complaint was received about an English-only message on the December payslips.

Outcome: Finance department staff attended the Language Awareness courses that were delivered to the department.

- [4] Complaints were received about English-only press advertisements about Psychology experiments.

Outcome: The School of Psychology was contacted and the School circulated a message to staff reminding them of the need to advertise bilingually.

- [5] The Human Resources department received a complaint about an English-only e-mail that had been sent to an individual who had applied for a post in the University.

Outcome: The Human Resources department investigated the matter and sent an apology to the individual in question.

- [6] Complaints (internal and external) were received by those who had been sent an English-only advertisements via the 'Academic Jobs Online' website for two posts in the University.

Outcome: The matter was referred to the attention of the Human Resources department and the Director of Communications. The importance of compliance with the Language Scheme by external head-hunters was emphasised.

- [7] A letter was received from the Welsh Language Board noting that they had received a complaint by a member of the public regarding the process of appointing directors and staff to the new Pontio centre. The Welsh Language Board asked the University to provide information about: (1) the role of the University in the new initiative; (2) an outline of the current position from the point of view of the staff who have been appointed / are in the process of being appointed, and of the linguistic requirements which were stipulated for these positions when they were advertised; (3) an analysis of the consideration given, during this process, to the commitments of the University's Language Scheme, in particular the Code of Practice for Recruitment.

Outcome: The University responded to the request for information from the Welsh Language Board.

[8] The Welsh Language Board held an inquiry into the recruitment process for a new Vice-Chancellor.

Outcome: Following their inquiry, the Welsh Language Board published a report containing recommendations. The University is responding to these recommendations.

[9] Complaints were received about English-only e-mails that were forwarded to groups of staff and to English-only messages on answering machines.

Outcome: These matters were discussed by PYCI. The members agreed that staff should be reminded again at the start of the next academic year of the importance of bilingual messages and, where appropriate, individuals should be contacted to remind them to send messages bilingually. The importance of bilingual phone greetings is emphasised in the language awareness sessions that are held with various departments.

[10] Complaints were received when Welsh language materials were not sent out at the same time as English language materials, even when the materials had been sent to be translated.

Outcome: The need to send out Welsh and English materials at the same time, as well as the need to allow adequate time for the translation unit to process the work, is emphasised (e.g. during the Induction session for new staff); the relevant units within Canolfan Bedwyr monitor the situation.

A message from the Registrar to all staff reminding them of the importance of complying with the Language Scheme will be sent at the beginning of the 2010/11 academic year.

Number of students (headcount) following some proportion of their degree program, for the academic year 2009/10, through the medium of Welsh. Data taken from the 2009/10 HESA Student Return. Students may not be following a full time course however, and these figures are most meaningful when considered in conjunction with Welsh medium FTE teaching load figures (Table CY4).
