

THE DUNCAN TANNER BURSARY

Introduction

The Duncan Tanner Bursary Fund has been established by Bangor University from donations made in memory of the late Professor Duncan Tanner, Professor of Modern History and Director of Research Policy & Development.

Regulations

The following regulations will govern the award of the Duncan Tanner Bursaries:

1. Bursaries may be awarded as a contribution towards the cost of supporting PhD students undertaking research on any topic in Modern History (post 1800) in Bangor University.
2. The Bursary is intended to supplement existing funding for postgraduate research from whatever source, and an application may be made only after other avenues of funding have been explored.
3. The Bursary may be used to support any activity which the Awarding Panel considers will benefit the PhD research being undertaken (such as research trips or attendance at conferences, including international travel). The Bursary may not be used, however, to purchase equipment.
4. A maximum of £500 may be awarded per Bursary application. Any PhD student in receipt of a Bursary may submit a further application at a later date for additional support for a separate activity.
5. The Bursaries shall be advertised by the School of History & Welsh History.
6. Applications (on a form available from the School of History & Welsh History) should be submitted to Paula Fleck, Development & Alumni Office, Bangor University, at any time during the academic year.
7. The award of bursaries shall be at the discretion of Duncan Tanner Bursary Panel comprising Dr Andrew Edwards, Mrs Christine Tanner, Ms Megan Tanner, and Mrs Stephanie Dolben.
8. Payment will be made in the form of reimbursement of costs on production of satisfactory receipts.
