

Dr SONG Lianyi is principal teaching fellow in Chinese at the SOAS, University of London. He has taught Chinese as a foreign language in the UK for over 25 years. He has been an active member, now an advisor, of the British Chinese Language Teaching Society (BCLTS) and was the chairman of the BCLTS between 2003 and 2005. In addition to teaching Chinese as a foreign language at all levels, he also teaches postgraduate courses such as Chinese language learning and teaching and English into Chinese translation. His research and publications cover various aspects of language teaching pedagogy, especially in assessment and teaching characters.