

Prof Liu Yan is a Deputy Director of the Office for English teaching for postgraduate Students School of Foreign Languages at China University of Political Science and Law. Her fields of Interest are Forensic Linguistics, Second Language Education and Academic Writing, along with the practice of teaching English for Academic Purposes and English

Writing for Postgraduate Students. She has a number of article publications on second language acquisition and worked on many projects on English writing for academic purposes and forensic linguistics.