

textHELP Read & Write

Read & Write by textHELP is a document and screen reading programme.

It has a whole host of other functions as well. It is compatible with most web browsers, word processors and documents. It operates like a floating toolbar with different buttons representing different functions.

Read & Write also has links to tutorial videos built into the drop down boxes, next to each icon in the toolbar for further information.

Read & Write also comes with an advanced spell checker and dictionary to help explain / identify words.

Here are some tips and uses of Read & Write:

1. You can use Read & Write's text reader to proof read your work. It is typical for us to read what we think we've written rather than what we have actually written. Therefore, listening to the software read the document as you have written it, helps identify where you have gone wrong.

2. Read & Write can also read text from websites and .pdf's allowing you listen to large pieces of text, which is often daunting and tiring.
3. You can customise Read & Write's tool bar to contain those functions you use most often.
4. You can adjust the voice's gender, accent, pitch and speed to suit you.
5. Read & Write is an extensive learning tool and having one to one training on its uses is recommended.
